Forecast for Tuesday 17 Aug 2021

Weather: Starting with outbreaks of rain, mainly light but with a chance of the odd heavier burst. The outbreaks of rain, joined by drizzle at times, should become lighter and more intermittent this afternoon. Some limited bright spells may develop, these most likely across eastern areas. However, it is expected to remain predominantly cloudy with fog across the peaks. Feeling rather cool with brisk westerly winds and cloud cover.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 10% or less across western areas, while further east 20-30%.

Visibility: Extensive cloud bases 400-600m, making visibility generally poor, or very poor at height. Cloud occasionally lifting to 800m across eastern areas this afternoon, allowing for better visibility here with nearby hills visible.

Meteorologist's View

Feeling cool with brisk westerly winds, and gusts of 35-45mph possible at height. Widespread hill fog over the peaks will make navigation difficult, and lower level routes should be considered.
